

UC Center for Field Studies

Welcome to UCCFS News!

In this edition, we invite you to read and explore our Stories from the Field Center and join us for our upcoming "Connect with Nature Day" event on June 10th.

Newsletter Exclusive

Interested in leading an event at our Connect with Nature Day? Want to guide students and community members in an interactive walk or table presentation? We would love to discuss your ideas. Email us for more information and RSVP for our event at the bottom of this letter!

Email Us!

Stories from the Field Center

Rain Garden Redesign

Did you know raingardens help prevent stormwater runoff? Students from UC's Environmental Studies Capstone are hard at work redesigning the Field Center's rain garden. Read to learn about rain gardens and why they are essential to our city.

Prairie Survey

Students at the University of Cincinnati, in partnership with Great Parks of Hamilton County, conducted a prairie survey. They compared prairies of different ages, and surveyed prairie history, prescribed burns, and analyzed species diversity.

Read more

Read more

Upcoming Events

Connect with Nature Day, June 10th

Join us for a day of exploration and learning led by UC faculty, staff, and students. Explore the stream, catch critters, walk the prairie, and mingle with experts and volunteers as you learn about birds, fish, plants, invasive species, rain gardens, and more. Activities available for all ages.

RSVP

UC Center for Field Studies | 11053 Oxford Rd., Harrison, OH 45030

Unsubscribe petrenk@ucmail.uc.edu

Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Sent byucfieldcenter@ucmail.uc.edu in collaboration with

Try email marketing for free today!